Global Equipment Shortages

Please be aware on an ongoing issue across Asia in regards to the shortage of container equipment amongst carriers.

Many shipping lines are experiencing a shortage of general purpose containers which we are working with our carrier partners to ensure impact is limited.

Main ports have been affected with the flow on impacting outer ports.

The issues has arisen due to the following circumstances

- a) Slow Steaming of vessel causing longer turnaround times of containers
- b) Increased numbers of containers scrapped in the past 12 months to reduce fleet sizes and increase cash flow during GFC
- c) Leasing Companies waiting for increased demand to achieve higher lease prices
- d) China Container Manufacturers delaying container production to drive prices up

Carriers are now in the process of repositioning empties as fast as possible back to Asia to alleviate the problem, as such additional requests for Detention may not be possible until the crisis is over.

Many carriers are also expecting delivery of new containers to their fleets however timeframes are not currently available.

As with Peak Season, it would be of great assistance to have bookings 14 days prior to ETD to assist with the collection of equipment well in advance of sailing.

Please contact your Customer Service Representative to assist in managing through any issues that may arise.
