

Toll Supports Sitting Bull!

April 2011

After seeing an advertisement on TV for applications to the Red Bull Trolley Grand Prix on 10th April 2011 in Auckland Domain, we thought we could have a bit of fun, and submitted our entry. To our surprise, out of over 2000 applications we were one of the 100 chosen to run on the day.

With telescopic front legs, steering wheel under his backside, SITTING BULL became a reality.

The driver, a local beauty queen and an experienced go kart driver sat in the body and controlled all its special effects of snorting, farting, pooping and a head that nodded.

SITTING BULL was dressed in Waikato Rugby colours – red, yellow and black as were the crew who also carried cowbells, stock sticks and a boot to give SITTING BULL a kick start down the 700m of Domain Drive.

Part way down the run, there was a 150mm jump to travel over and then on to some very nasty 'S' bends that made for some spectacular wipe outs.

SITTING BULL made it through all the obstacles. After crossing the finish line he gracefully lay on his side, after all – entertaining a crowd of 100,000+ spectators is very tiring.

We thank our sponsors Toll Global Forwarding Auckland office, SITTING BULL did the new Toll logo proud

Bring on the next one, the day was awesome!
